

Canterbury and Chatham Islands Regional Newsletter 19 February 2018

Kia ora,

This week we mark the eighth anniversary of the destructive February 22 earthquake. The anniversary is a stark reminder of the scale of the rebuild and also a chance to look forward and reflect how far the city has come. On Thursday our office and the wider Ministry team pay our respects to the people who died. Our schools, workplaces and households will also pause to pay their respects in their own ways.

We can see strong signs of progress and I am proud of the work that we are doing. Thank you to our schools, boards, principals, staff, teachers, students and their families for their hard work and commitment to education in Canterbury.

The Minister of Education, Chris Hipkins was at Timaru Girls' High School on Friday to officially open their new innovative classroom environment and upgraded gymnasium. While in Timaru the Minister had the opportunity to meet with representatives from the North and South Timaru Communities of Learning.

From this month Communities of Learning | Kāhui Ako will receive their inquiry time once they have appointed their leader, rather than having to wait until their achievement challenges are endorsed and a leader has been appointed. The latest Education Gazette has a news piece on this, and for more details please email leigh.fowler@education.govt.nz in our office.

Congratulations to Villa Maria College which celebrated 100 Years with a weekend of activities. The centennial celebrations began with a grand opening and showcase reception; other activities included a family fun day, ball and special Mass. What a wonderful way to celebrate your past and present.

Our central reception area – showcasing our schools

As the many of you who have visited our office will be aware, TV screens in our reception area run videos showcasing our schools accomplishments. We would like more of our schools' work available for our visitors to watch and invite you to send us digital copies of your students taking part in activities including cultural, sporting or musical events we could play in reception.

A reminder also that our building offers a great opportunity when you are in the city to work from our office on level 1. The space has a variety of work spaces, tea, coffee, toilets and WiFi. There is no need to confirm with us, just feel free to visit.

Unjustified student absences

I understand that some of you, particularly primary schools are receiving requests for students to regularly take time out of school to attend sporting type academy training activities. We encourage you to talk to parents about the need for these activities to take place before or after school hours.

We appreciate that it is up to your school to make decisions about what is and is not justified and that you are applying this consistently across your school. We are aware principals are recording this absenteeism as unjustified absences, if parents choose to proceed with this.

You can find more information about managing student absences on our website

Secondment opportunities to the Ministry

The Ministry of Education supports the education sector with advice, information and resources, as well as policy advice to government. We employ around 3,500 staff in our offices around the country, including around 1,600 in learning support roles.

The Canterbury Chatham Islands region is currently seeking interest from people who like variety and a challenge and would like to work with our fantastic regional team. We have a range of secondment opportunities and all these positions support the Ministry with improving educational achievement for all students/children.

If you are interested in talking to someone about the Ministry and what might be suitable for both your professional development and what the Ministry can provide, please contact Ann-Maree Fuller, senior HR advisor ann-maree.fuller@education.govt.nz

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you wish to discuss any ideas or issues. You can call me on 03 378 7345, 0274200251 or email me at Coralanne.child@education.govt.nz I look forward to hearing from you.

Enjoy this fortnight's bulletin.
